She excelled in swimming and re-wrote the record board, with times that will be hard to beat for years to come. At age 14 she qualified for her first of three Olympic Trials. At age 15 she set an age group national record in the 100 breaststroke. As a senior in high school, she set a national record in the 100-yard breaststroke! She moved on the University of Minnesota and continued to set records for the Gophers! Lindsey finished her career swimming for DC Trident in the professional swimming league.
